Big 4 Meet Proposed By Mendes-France

Necessary To Ratify Pacts First

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France Monday suggested a Big Four conference on outstanding problems—but only after the Western European nations and the United States have ratified the London and Paris agreements to free and rear West Germany.

The French Premier told the U.N. Assembly that a conference of United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union could be held next May in Paris. He said the agreements should be ratified by the countries concerned by that time and added that an agreement on an Austrian treaty would be a happy prelude to such a session.

Rejecting the recent Soviet proposals for a security conference of 20 to 25 countries, Mendes-France praised President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace program and said France would cooperate in it and in measures being pursued in the Disarmament Commission to limit armaments.

The absence of Soviet Chief Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky from the assembly hall while Mendes-France spoke was the first tip that all was not well with the Russian delegate. He died before the Premier spoke but his death was not made known until almost an hour after Mendes-France finished.

Now, with Moscow obviously pursuing a more flexible policy and presenting a new look to the world, some delegates were inclined to look with greater interest on the French suggestion.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman in effect backed up Mendes-France. He said the United States is prepared to meet with Russia whenever it seems probable that such a meeting would be fruitful and after adequate preparation.

"Ratification of the Paris agreements should precede such negotiations, so that our course in this respect is irreversible," the spokesman, Henry Suydam, said.

Artist Sails Down Mississippi In Eight-Foot Kayak

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Alfred H. Urness, a Wyoming artist who is trying to stay ahead of winter on a boat trip down the Mississippi River, left Monday with a tablecloth for a sail.

Urness began his voyage in an eight-foot galvanized steel kayak at Billings, Mont., using just a paddle for power. But James Howard, operator of a St. Louis yacht harbor, rigged up the tablecloth for Urness, 44, to help speed the trip to New Orleans and then Miami, Fla.

Earlier Urness, who has spent recent nights beside driftwood fires on banks of the Missouri River, said he was afraid he might have to halt his trip because of cold weather.

Unable to swim, he wears a life-jacket to keep him afloat when the kayak overturns, which it has done 21 times so far.

OFFER AMNESTY TO N. AFRICAN REBELS

PARIS (AP)—French and Tunisian authorities appealed to the Fellaga rebels in North Africa Monday to lay down their arms in return for a pledge of amnesty to be delivered to each rebel individually under a truce. There was no time limit in the appeal.

A joint statement to this effect, approved by the French and Tunisian governments over the weekend, was issued simultaneously here and in Tunis.

Just before the announcement was made, dispatches from Tunis reported 21 persons killed in a new clash between the independence-seeking rebels and French troops 25 miles north of Gafsa.

WRONG CELEBRATION

STAMBAUGH, Mich. (AP)—Vernon Carlson was released from the hospital after five weeks treatment of acid burns in an accident at an iron mine. To celebrate he decided to go hunting. While he was loading his gun, his dog jumped on him. The gun discharged and shattered a bone in his leg.

He was returned to the hospital the same day he was released.

W. Europe Should Help Build Up Asia; Stassen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen suggested Monday the time has come for the free nations of Europe to help the United States build up the free nations of Asia.

Such a program of economic development, Stassen told a news conference, would be of "great world significance."

McCarthy To Stay In Hospital Until Next Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was reported feeling better Monday but he told one caller at his Bethesda Naval Hospital room that he didn't think he would get out until next Monday.

That is the day the Senate is to resume debate on whether to censure him. He is under treatment for bursts of the elbow, attributed to an injury from an over-zealous handshaker.

Meanwhile the National Broadcasting Co., without comment, turned down a request from Mrs. McCarthy that the senator be allowed 15 minutes free television time Thanksgiving Day to discuss the censure issue.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) commented before the NBC turnaround that the request "is some indication" that McCarthy "is not incapacitated." McClellan also said that if the request were granted, "95 other senators might like to have the same time and consideration."

His attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, said Monday night he understood the senator was operated on Monday and would undergo another operation tomorrow.

Williams said he did not know the exact nature of the operation but, "I don't suppose it is critical." Other associates said surgeons were probing the senator's elbow for possible bits of glass or other foreign particles.

U. S. Sends Jets To Panama

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said Monday six jet planes were flown to Panama, next door to Costa Rica, where rumors about plots against the government were rife in a "routine transfer of equipment."

"This was the first official Washington statement of the move. However, it was reported last Saturday by anonymous officials that the shift of jet planes was a peace-keeping gesture."

67-FOOT FIR TO SERVE AS CAPITAL CHRISTMAS TREE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 67-foot balsam fir tree from the woods of northern Michigan, described as one of "presidential proportions," will be brought to Washington to become the national community Christmas tree.

Christmas Eisenhower will press a switch lighting the tree on the evening of Dec. 17 to inaugurate the "Pageant of Peace" ceremonies on the White House grounds.

Major radio and television networks will broadcast the tree lighting ceremonies.

Edward J. Kelly, general chairman of the pageant, said the giant fir tree was donated by Michigan State College.

1954 Election Results Show Political Forecasters Erred

WASHINGTON (AP)—The professional politicians were far off the mark with their 1954 election forecasts for the House.

A check of claims and hopes against actual results showed Monday that:

Before the Nov. 2 balloting Democrats had voiced hopes of a net gain of 30 to 70 House seats and Republican strategists counted on picking up 10 to 40. The Democrats came out of the election with a net gain of 17 seats, the GOP with a net loss of 16.

One Democratic gain was from an Ohio Independent, Frazier Reams.

But, as experts in both parties predicted, most of the overturns were in marginal districts. These were districts in which the 1952 congressional victors won by 55 per cent or less of the total vote. There were 85 of them in 1952.

Of 27 upsets this year, 20 were in districts which were marginal two years ago. The Democrats chalked up 22 overturns, 17 of them in marginal districts. Three of the 5 Republican overturns were in such districts.

Kidnap-Killer Arraigned For Niece's Murder

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Thurman Priest said Monday he too, is seeking the answer to the mystery of why he kidnaped and killed the 11-year-old niece he loved "better than anything, anybody."

"I don't know what they call loving something so much that you kill it," the slight 48-year-old Texas auditor told newsmen.

"Just blame it on being crazy, I guess."

Texas and Missouri officers also were seeking to learn why the weak-appearing Grand, Prairie, Tex., man shot and killed the girl, Jeannette Earnest, on a trip from Texas to Ohio.

Priest made the statements in an interview immediately after being arraigned on a first-degree murder charge.

Bail was denied. He waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held for trial at the next term of Circuit Court. He entered no plea.

During the interview, Priest reiterated his denial that he had any sex attachment for the child he admitted kidnaping from near Fort Worth, Tex., home last Tuesday.

"No, that had no part in it whatsoever," he said.

Priest protested at his arraignment the accusation that the slaying was deliberate.

"I understand it all right except for two words," he said in answer to a question after a legally worded arrest order was read to him. "Those words are 'premeditated' and 'with malice'."

"The last two years," he told newsmen, "I'm always so lonely and depressed when she—Jeannette—wasn't with me. I just couldn't stand it."

Await Full Court To Hear Arguments On Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided Monday to wait until it has a full membership of nine justices before hearing arguments on how and when to end segregation in public schools.

Arguments scheduled to begin Dec. 6 were called off "in view of the absence of a full court."

A vacancy was created by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson on Oct. 9. President Eisenhower has named Judge John Marshall Harlan of the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York to fill the vacancy but the Senate will not act on the nomination before January.

The court set no new date for the argument. This will be done after the ninth justice takes his place on the high bench.

In a unanimous decision last May 17 the court ruled that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. The decision, however, left unanswered—the question of how and when desegregation must be carried out.

In other cases today, the court said federal and state legislatures have almost unlimited power to order redevelopment of slum areas.

Refused to pass on validity of an Alabama law making marriage of Negro and a white person a crime.

MRS. EISENHOWER TO CHRISTEN NEW PLANE, COLUMBINE III

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's sleek new private plane, a speedy Super Constellation, will be christened by his wife Wednesday with a bottle of water from a Colorado trout stream he fished last summer.

Then the chief executive will make his first flight aboard the new aircraft—to be named Columbine III. He and Mrs. Eisenhower and British Field Marshal Viscount Bernard Montgomery will fly to Augusta, Ga., for the Thanksgiving holiday.

James C. Hagerity, White House press secretary, told newsmen the President and Mrs. Eisenhower left the naming of the plane up to their three grandchildren—David, 6, Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 2—when the children were with their grandparents in Abilene, Kan., earlier this month.

The Columbine I was used by Eisenhower while he was supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe. Since his inauguration as president, he has used Columbine II, which is now being returned by the Air Force to Military Air Transport Service.

The new Columbine is 135 feet long and cruises at 336 miles an hour as compared with 276 for the old ship.

Sheppard Spoke Of Divorcing Wife, Friend Testifies

CLEVELAND (AP)—An old school chum testified Monday Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard spoke twice within three years of divorcing his slain wife, Marilyn. The osteopath is on trial for her murder July 4.

On the second occasion, said Dr. Lester Hovesten, he warned Dr. Sheppard that his wife was a tolerant woman and that "he might actually be jumping from the frying pan into the fire."

During less than half a day on the witness stand, Dr. Hovesten also testified:

1. He saw no sign of unhappiness or discontent as a guest in the Sheppard home.

2. When he saw Dr. Sheppard a day after the murder, the defendant wept and told him, "Why couldn't they have killed me instead of Marilyn, because Chip—his son—would need Marilyn more than he would need me."

3. During this same conversation, Dr. Sheppard's elder brother Stephen advised the defendant, "You should review in your mind several times a day the sequence of events as they happened so that you will have your story straight when questioned."

The defense apparently saw little harmful in Hovesten's testimony. He was under cross-examination less than 10 minutes—the shortest period of any state witness thus far in the trial, now in its sixth week.

Okay $10 Million Building Program For State Colleges

CHICAGO (AP)—Construction totaling 10 million dollars received approval Monday by the State Teachers College Board for four Illinois colleges.

The board also approved an operational budget for the coming biennium of more than 19 million dollars. Both the budget and building program must be acted on by the state legislature through recommendations of the budget commission of the Department of Finance.

Lined up for Eastern Illinois State College, Charleston, was a budget of $3,801,622 and the building of a laboratory school and part of the cost of a dormitory, the balance to be financed by a bond issue.

Illinois State Normal University, Normal, received a proposed budget of $6,531,683 and a building program for a classroom building, a laboratory school and additional library stacks.

Western Illinois State College, Macomb, carries a budget proposal of $2,739,163 and a building program of a new shop building and part of the cost of a new residence hall.

Northern Illinois State Teachers College, De Kalb, has an operating budget of $4,909,751 and a building program of a class room building, a laboratory school, a physical education building for men (field house) and a health service building. Part of the field house cost will be paid for by revenue bonds.

TO TAKE VISHINSKY'S BODY TO MOSCOW
MOSCOW (Tuesday) (AP)—A Moscow broadcast announced Monday that the Soviet government and Communist party had appointed a commission to take charge of the funeral of Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, and said his body would be brought to Moscow.

The members of the commission were listed as: M. O. Pervilhin, a deputy premier, as chairman; Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister; K. Gorbachev, minister of justice; A. F. Gorkin, a secretary of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet; and M. A. Yasnov, chairman of the Moscow City Soviet.

FATHER OF SIX DIES IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

CHRISMAN, Ill. (AP)—Lewis Henry, 39, an unemployed Chrisman laborer and father of six children, was killed Monday while hunting.

Roger Holt of rural Chrisman spotted Henry's body lying near a fence on a country road. Holt told authorities Henry's 16 gauge shotgun probably discharged accidentally as he was crawling over the fence.

A coroner's jury ruled the death accidental.

Describes Vishinsky As Man Having Fun

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—In his last days at U.N., Andrei Y. Vishinsky obviously was a man having fun and enjoying himself.

Carrying out Moscow's directives of limited agreements with the West on some subjects, he was negotiating with Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chief American delegate, to achieve a vote on a resolution endorsing President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan. Moscow wants the proposed international agency tied to the Assembly and Security Council. But delegates who had talked with the Russians expected Vishinsky to cast a vote with the United States and the West for the resolution, leaving it to later negotiations to settle the issue of the Security Council. The Russians have a Security Council veto which Vishinsky often used.

Vishinsky played the cello for relaxation.

At social functions he served lavishly food and drinks.

In 1950 Vishinsky fought the appointment of Secretary General Trygve Lie to an extension of three years in his term. He used harsh words to attack Lie. But at a Soviet anniversary party both Lie and Vishinsky performed in the most accepted diplomatic tradition. Vishinsky stuck out his hand and seemed to look a little embarrassed. Lie had been invited before the trade and he felt he should attend the party since the invitation had not been revoked. He did not remain long.

Two weeks ago, Vishinsky was host at a party at 680 Park Avenue, New York, only a few steps from the living quarters where he died Monday. Dressed in his blue Foreign Office uniform with decorations, with his red-haired wife at his side, Vishinsky was a smiling host, with a ready word for everyone.

The American delegation boycotted that party in protest against the shooting down that weekend of an American plane off Japan. But some Americans went in various capacities and Vishinsky gave no notice of the official cold-shoulder.

Vishinsky took English lessons during his stay at the U.N. but he never felt easy in using the language. Rarely was his interpreter absent.

He loved opera. Once he was invited to the Metropolitan by a president of the Assembly. He reported sick when he found a person not friendly to his government would be in the party. That person later could not attend and Vishinsky recovered miraculously—and enjoyed the whole performance.

He went to church at least once that is known. With other delegates he attended a Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York in the early days of the U.N. It is not known whether he was a churchgoing man, but in speeches he often quoted Scripture.

Ike's 'Best Wishes' Thrill Couple Wed 74 Years

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower, Gov. Allen Shivers and hundreds of others Monday joined in "best wishes" on the 74th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Shore.

"Like kids at Christmas" was the reaction of the pair to the message from the President.

Shore, 91, and his wife, 93, observed the anniversary quietly. Mrs. Shore is recovering from a broken left shoulder that she suffered Sept. 1 in a fall at her home. Her husband has been ill.

The annual, special delivery message from the President, said: "Best wishes for many more years of happy companionship."

Shore prides himself on being a "Methodist, Mason and Democrat." He was greatly surprised and thrilled at the President's letter. He was a staunch supporter of Eisenhower in 1952.

The Shores reared seven children. Six are still living.

Urge Stratton Postpone Final Decision On Toll Road Route

CHICAGO (AP)—A resolution urging Gov. Stratton to postpone final decision on toll road route in the Chicago area was adopted unanimously Monday by the Cook County Board of Commissioners.

The resolution was telegraphed to the governor who was closest with members of the Illinois Toll Road Commission to make a final determination of routes for the planned pay-as-you-drive turnpikes.

Daniel J. Ryan, president-elect of the board, said the resolution was voted because the board felt that it should be given a chance to learn what the Toll Road Commission plans and to offer suggestions on aspects of the program affecting Cook County's four million residents.

Ryan said the commissioners are concerned because they have not been consulted although one link of the 600 million toll road net—that planned as part of a tri-state expressway—seems unrealistic.

The planned route, he said, parallels Illinois 83 which the coming commissioners want improved with state motor fuel tax funds as a free-use link in the tri-state turnpike.

The planned turnpike route, bypassing Chicago, he said, would attract only 8 per cent of the normal north-south traffic through the county and be "virtually useless" to suburban commuters.

Ryan said the toll highway right-of-way would take hundreds of thousands of dollars in tax revenue off of Cook County rolls.

Stratton said that an "important addition" to the program provides for an entrance to Chicago. The Toll Road Commission proposes to take over 7 miles of the North-West Highway—as far as Cicero Avenue in Chicago.

Funds already spent by Cook County for right-of-way acquisition on the highway would be refunded by the Toll Road Commission with the hope that the money would be used on the Congress St. Superhighway running out of Chicago.

Preparing For Debate On Ike's Atom Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky, rapier-tongued mouthpiece of the Soviet Union, died of a heart attack Monday as he drafted an important statement of his country's views on President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan. He was 70.

The fiery chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations collapsed at his delegation headquarters on Park avenue at 8:30 a.m. CST after getting up early to prepare for one of the most important debates of his long career.

The debate, in which delegates of all nations anxiously awaited a reply to the U. S. challenge that the Soviet Union prove its peaceful intentions, immediately was postponed.

The Soviet delegation announced Vishinsky died of an acute stenocardiac attack—also known as angina pectoris, a suffocation of the heart.

Vishinsky's death touched off speculation here and among Western diplomats in Moscow on his successor. High on the list of possibilities is Andrei Gromyko, who once before headed Russia's U.N. delegation. He is a deputy foreign minister, as was Vishinsky.

Fifty-nine nations of the 60-nation General Assembly gathered in plenary session in the afternoon to pay final tribute to the colleague whose steel-tongued wit and forensic fireworks aroused general admiration, even among those who most bitterly opposed him.

Nationalist China, whose seat in the U. N. had been regularly challenged by Vishinsky at every opportunity, did not attend the eulogy session.

As news reached Moscow, lights were seen burning late in the Kremlin. The Moscow radio said the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party and the Soviet Council of Ministers had gathered there to appoint a commission to take charge of the funeral arrangements.

The Kremlin announcement said Vishinsky's body would be brought home for burial.

The news of Vishinsky's death brought no comment from the White House, but U. S. Secretary of State Dulles extended his condolences and said the Soviet leader was "an able and vigorous advocate of his country's policies."

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) Monday took issue with Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) for suggesting that Sen. McCarthy's hospitalization was part of a filibuster to delay a censure vote.

Capehart, at Idlewild Airport to fly to Rio de Janeiro for the Inter-American Economic Conference, termed Fulbright's accusation concerning the Wisconsin senator "a very undignified statement."

"He (Fulbright) is impugning not only a United States senator but also the motives of a congressional doctor," Capehart said.

CROSSING THE ARCTIC

Passengers on regular commercial aircraft who can look down on ice-clogged polar seas must imagine they are having a dream.

Even in this day of remarkable air exploits, it is still hard to believe that man has arrived at the stage where scheduled airline operations across the Arctic are safe and practical. But that is now the case.

Scandinavian Airlines has inaugurated two flights weekly each way from Los Angeles and Copenhagen, Denmark. The distance of 5800 miles will normally be covered in around 27 hours.

Not without significance is the fact that Russians pioneered cross-Arctic flying 17 years ago with an historic trip to California. Then it had to be done without major weather and navigational aids.

Today the general area traversed by the Scandinavian Airlines route is marked by many weather and radio stations which can assist aircraft spanning the icy wastes. Some indication of the confidence these aids inspire can be gathered from the distinguished passenger list on the first westbound flight. Prince Axel of Denmark, three Nordic premiers and a host of other important persons made the trip.

No doubt these flights will ordinarily come to be viewed as no less routine than standard transoceanic flights to Europe and the Far East. Yet it's still fair to say that the air passenger seeking adventure is more likely to get a sense of it from the new Arctic route than any other way.

The northern passage has other meanings, obviously. It dramatizes the accessibility of Europe and Asia to our military aircraft flying the Arctic, and makes it plain the Russians work the same strategy in reverse.

The northern door to America is no longer safely shut while we try to guard our Atlantic and Pacific coasts from threat of hostile planes. We may have known this for some time, but the reality of commercial flying over the Arctic must surely heighten our concern for the defense of this continent and our own borders.

We can be thankful that an airline representing free Europe is operating over this route. For as we have been benefiting recently from data compiled by Canadian as well as American-manned Arctic weather and radio stations, so we may expect to be given all useful flying data amassed on Scandinavian's new regular flights.

Both commercially and militarily the importance of this development is clear. But its meaning is greater. It is another triumph of man's spirit. The air conquest of the Arctic represents his successful intrusion into one of the last and most forbidding of the earth's great wastelands.

FOR SAFER DRIVING

Good counsel on driving safety sometimes emerges from rather unexpected quarters. Most people probably imagine stock-car drivers are a pretty wild fraternity, if they think about them at all. But they practice some driving habits the average motorist could well follow.

Stock-car racers do go in for stunts to stir the crowd. Racing is, however, a serious matter to the best of them. They want to survive the rough and tumble of the often jam-packed track, and to make money. Safety is obviously an acute problem.

And their chief reliance is a very simple device—the safety belt. A broad strap not unlike those found in today's aircraft, this belt fastens tightly to the frame of the racing car. The driver stretches it across his thighs as he sits at the wheel.

With that protection, he is amazingly well fixed to meet most eventualities. On the stock-car tracks, accidents are nightly occurrences but serious injuries and fatalities are rare. Cars roll over, sideswipe others, spin completely around, slam into retaining walls, and pile into stalled vehicles.

Through it all, the driver usually stays tightly fastened in his seat, free from injury. His only real peril is fire. But the belt, firm though it is, unfastens quickly.

Stock-car racers long have been telling ordinary highway motorists they should copy this practice. A very substantial percentage of fatalities and injuries on the road would be eliminated if drivers were held tightly in their seats when a crash came.

Now the racers have been joined in this advice by scientists studying automobile safety problems at Cornell University. The latter have other recommendations, but none is more important than the safety belt.

To ask the motorist getting into his car for a 10-minute spin to the grocery store to don a safety belt is, of course, absurd. But on the open highway, when speed and split-second errors of judgment or control can reduce a man to a lifeless heap in a flash of time, the value of the belt is unmistakable.

It may not be easy to induce motor makers to provide safety belts, nor to educate drivers to use them. Undoubtedly they are something of a nuisance. Maybe they spoil the crease in a man's pants.

But if the highway death toll keeps piling up, the time may come soon when the driver will decide it's better to lose the crease in his pants than to get one in his head.

ROYAL TROUPER

Lionel Barrymore loved to act. He was still at it a few days before he died at a mellow 76. And he had been doing it for 61 years.

His gruff, scratchy voice and rough-chiseled face had made him the perfect Scrooge in Dickens' fabled "Christmas Carol."

He, his brother John and sister Ethel were the last of a long line of actors, the Drews and the Barrymores, whom he once estimated had appeared on the stage for some 200 uninterrupted years. Truly, this was the "royal family" of the theater.

Americans will miss the old gentleman, most especially at Christmas, when it will be time to spin out Dickens' tale once more.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Henry Fonda has come to the end of a long cruise with Lt. (J. G.) Douglas Roberts. USNR.

When the actor finished his role as the soft-spoken, high-principled Navy officer in the film version of "Mister Roberts," it ended an association that began when Fonda opened in the stage play in December 1946.

I watched as Fonda went through one of his last scenes in the picture. It was a hot early morning in the South Pacific Roberts' ship—the one that traveled from apathy to boredom in the backwash of the Pacific war—was anchored at dead calm.

Roberts was seated on the after-deck of the cargo ship when Doc, played by William Powell, came out to join him. The young officer told of seeing a huge task force sail by the night before. He showed Doc his latest wording of a letter he sent to higher authorities each week requesting for transfer to the shooting war.

"I'll get there, Doc," Roberts said. "I'll get there some day."

The scene lasted six and a half minutes, which is king-size in the patchwork business of making movies. Fonda gave the same underplayed but stirring performance I had seen him do twice on the stage.

After the scene was over, Fonda talked about his life with Roberts. He had read the Thomas Heggen book when it came out and he saw movie possibilities in the property. But he never suspected it could be made into a play.

"I almost didn't make the picture," he grinned. "I didn't think they were going to pick me for it."

Also in the cast is Jack Lemmon as Ensign Pulver—"The best Pulver we ever had," says producer Leiland Hayward. And James Cagney is playing the demonic captain. I asked Jimmy how he has managed to keep him from becoming Queen of the "Caine Mutiny" fame.

"Oh, this guy is a riot," he said. "Queeg had no redeeming qualities. But you've got to laugh when the captain comes down from the bridge in pajamas and pulled-down camp to water his pet palm tree. You can't hate anything you can laugh at."

Shock!—Social Order—Patience and Fortitude—Touchy Question—Proper Respect—Protest

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Rep. Oakley Hunter (R., Calif.) tells the story of an old government workman who took a fancy to a fresh young thing assigned to his office as a new secretary.

One day he stopped at her desk and asked for a kiss.

"Definitely, no," the young woman replied firmly.

Whereupon the old man fainted. When he revived, the secretary gave him a puzzled look and said, "I know you must have been terribly disappointed by my refusal but why did you have to faint?"

"It wasn't disappointment," the bureaucrat answered. "It was just that in all the years I have been in government, this was the first time I ever got a definite answer on anything."

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, recently gave the students of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N. J., an example of how not to maintain the social order. By that he meant a harmonious relationship between all elements of the national economy.

He told them the story of an harassed French pastor of a small, poor country parish.

"It seems this pastor had a need," he said, "for a cure to cure what he loved animals, and he had a pet goat which he kept in his house. The pastor, irritated, finally told the curate that he needed to get rid of it."

The curate complied, but the first night he turned the goat out to bed and let the goat turn in the house again. Next morning the pastor found the goat comforted. Four Japanese political leaders were named by a Japanese reporter.

That was the end.

The prime minister was asked which one of the four he considered most suitable to take his place.

"I am not too grateful for the question," cracked Mr. Yoshida with his broad smile. He got out of the corner by saying that he would leave the decision to the judgment of the Japanese people.

It takes something extra to shock a Washington press photographer, but the cameramen were really offended by the rudeness of some of the bystanders when Queen Mother Elizabeth visited the capital.

"Someone actually yelled at her. 'Hey! Highness!'" commented one properly horrified flashbulb artist.

"Well, what should they have yelled?" asked his listener. Back came the answer. "Hey! Your Majesty!"

National Temperance League, Inc., has made a public protest over the appointment of Robert L. King, vice president and general manager of Southern Comfort Distillery, St. Louis, as administrative assistant to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Pointing out that if President Eisenhower should die, Mr. King would be in direct line to become administrative assistant to the new President, Clayton M. Wallace, N. T. L. executive director, says:

Without reflecting in the slightest on Mr. King's ability and qualifications in espionage matters, friends of temperance throughout America will feel that the naming of a high official in the liquor industry to such have to represent the Administration on temperance legislation (among other things) is most inadvisable.

So he won't talk—

Well, it could be that he is convinced he knows exactly what you would say under any circumstances.

Some wives do have stock answers for almost any topic their husbands might choose to talk about.

If your husband won't talk be sure you aren't well supplied with ready answers. For if you are—that might be the reason he finds it simpler to keep still.

For instance, if your husband should come home and say, "I had a run-in with Jones today" would you ask an intelligent question? "Or would you say flatly, 'Well, I told you from the start I didn't trust him' or 'How much longer are you going to put up with him?'"

If your husband should surprise you by saying, "Let's go out to dinner and to a movie" would you tell him you think it is a fine idea and quietly go about making arrangements to get away? Or would you say you already have the dinner in the oven, and you don't know whether or not you can get a sitter, and is he sure there's a good movie in town?

ARE DIRTY CERTAINS MORE IMPORTANT?

If your husband told you some of the men were getting up a fishing trip and wanted him to go along would you see the trip from his point of view and encourage him to go along even though you both know it's not work out? Or would you say, "If you can take time off to go a fishing trip, it seems to me we ought to do something together. I haven't had a time off either, you know."

If your husband should start making comments on some of the page news in the paper he is reading, would you listen with interest and make some pertinent comment? Or would you merely pretend to listen while you thought of something really important, like whether or not the curtains have to be washed tomorrow?

Sometimes husbands don't talk because they have learned from sad experience that it doesn't get them anywhere.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Alcoholic Must Face Reality, Desire to Stop; AA Can Help

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A cry for help comes in the form of a tragic letter. The lady writes: "I am a nervous person and during the past year my nervousness has increased so that it is unbearable at times and when this happened I started drinking. I am making the whole family miserable and unhappy, including myself. My two girls are miserable. Isn't there some medicine that would help me stop drinking since I know it isn't good for me. I don't do it every day but feel it may run into that."

It seems from this letter that the correspondent has entered or is about to enter the world peopled so fully by those who cannot leave the letter to indicate that this is merely "social drinking" but rather a really dangerous state of craving for forgetfulness through alcohol.

NO ONE KNOWS exactly why a people develop this craving for alcohol and inability to stop. Alcoholism is not inherited. As one man said, "Alcohol is an extremely effective agent for rosy blurring and softening the rigid and forbidding outlines of reality."

As time goes on the person headed for chronic alcoholism seeks to shut out his troubles more and more often in drink. It is an escape. It is also a defect of personality and reflects an unwillingness or inability to face up to the troubles of the world.

MOST DOCTORS have come to consider chronic alcoholics as sick people and the alcoholism as a symptom of the condition which caused the person to take to drink, just as a fever is a symptom of pneumonia.

Unfortunately there is as yet no thoroughly satisfactory treatment for the chronic alcoholic. Under careful supervision some have been cured by an aversion or distaste for any drink containing alcohol. Hypnotism has also been tried with the correspondent has entered or is about to enter the world peopled so fully by those who cannot leave the letter to indicate that this is merely "social drinking" but rather a really dangerous state of craving for forgetfulness through alcohol.

THE VICTIM OF the alcohol habit usually thinks he can stop at the proper time or feels that a small glass of wine or beer would not do any harm. When he gets it, however, he cannot stop and keeps on taking just one drink more until perhaps he ends in the police station, the gutter or the morgue.

The writer of the letter quoted at the beginning of this column should seek help promptly if she is unable to stop herself from drinking. The fact that she recognizes the danger and wants to stop should be of great help.

Christmas-Wreath Pudding Makes a Gala Dessert

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We've been on the lookout for recipes to add to Christmas festivities. This Christmas-wreath pudding comes from a Michigan tea kitchen. The cranberry shrub is from the famous Toll House in Whitman, Mass. It is to start Christmas dinner with a toast to Santa Claus.

Christmas Wreath Pudding (Yield: 1 wreath, 9 inches in diameter)

Candied fruits to decorate, 11 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon allspice, 1 cup chopped dates, 1 cup chopped nut meats, 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice, 1 cup vanilla flavoring, 1 cup melted shortening, 1 cup ready-to-eat bran.

Arrange candied fruits in bottom of greased 9-inch ring mold. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and spices. Stir in dates and nut meats. Combine pineapple juice, vanilla, shortening and ready-to-eat bran. All pineapple juice mixture to dry ingredients, starting only until combined.

Pour batter carefully over candied fruits; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour. Turn out on serving plate while hot and serve either hot or cold with lemon or hard sauce.

Toll House Fruit Shrub (Yield: 3 to 4 servings)

One cup cranberry juice cocktail, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon rum, 1 cup syrup from spiced peaches, spiced watermelon rind, or other sweet pickled or spiced fruit.

Combine all ingredients and chill thoroughly. Add sugar if necessary.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Lamb stew with vegetables and biscuit topping, whipped potatoes, cabbage hot biscuits, butter or margarine, fig torte, coffee, tea, or milk.

A music instructor says that about 2 per cent of the people can really sing. That makes about 98 per cent that don't know it.

It's always easier to think of a smart retort after it is too late to say it.

According to a doctor, it's healthy to "laugh for all you're worth."

In some folks that would bring out maybe a giggle.

Two sons of a man in prison for robbery, were arrested for the same type of crime. Just off-shoots, we guess.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analysts

You could never listen to Andrei Vishinsky under any circumstances without wondering what was actually going on in the mind behind the words.

Vishinsky was an educated man. Yet he parroted some of the most unintelligible drivel at times.

He had the presence of a polished gentleman, was suave as long as he was presenting his carefully prepared statements. When questioning became too pointed, however, he was inclined to resort to angry personalities. I have seen him break up a news conference in red-faced confusion when pressed too hard by reporters.

He did his best to conceal the fact that, even as deputy foreign minister and chief of the Russian delegation to the U.N., he could not comment on even the most innocuous new matter without consulting the Kremlin. He was not, of course, the only delegate who had such trouble. Nor could he entirely cover up the awkward and slow arrangements he had for getting an answer.

He was a man out of place. He was one of Russia's greatest lawyers, both in knowledge of the law, on which he wrote probably that nation's most famous book, and adroitness of procedure. He conducted some of the most notorious purge trials before the war, yet concealed their true nature for a long time even from experienced foreign observers.

He was not one of the old revolutionaries. In fact, he was almost caught off base politically when Stalin came to full power. But he managed to catch the bandwagon and never let go, although he appeared to be skating on thin ice at times.

All this points to very high intelligence, regardless of what you may think of the character that went with it. He was thoroughly capable of absorbing what he saw and thinking things out in his own mind.

Explains Schools Special Training To Pilot Members

Education Week was observed by a program presented Nov. 17, at the regular meeting of the Jacksonville Pilot club held in the County Fair room at the Dunlap hotel.

The program chairman, Vernice Eldridge, introduced John Wright from Illinois College, who spoke on why it is necessary for Our Saviour's hospital to obtain its proposed fund for the planned building program. The project is the concern of the entire community and not a private one. Proper hospital protection for Jacksonville demands both hospitals be modernized and enlarged to successfully serve the community. Since Passavant hospital has been rebuilt and completed the plans now are for Our Saviour's also to be brought up to modern standards. To complete this proposal will mean the cooperation of the entire area.

Mrs. Eldridge then introduced Dr. R. H. Alexander with the Department of Public Instruction, who with his co-workers divert their attention to special educational facilities in the public schools. The speaker explained the many phases involved by psychologists, teachers, speech correctionists, counselors and interested parties in bringing about a better understanding of a student and preparing for his or her education according to intellectual ability.

Chief Wesley B. Slaid of the South Jacksonville fire department said the new apparatus, which is considerably less expensive than the other engine, will be used for grass fires and other alarms of that nature when possible.

The South Jacksonville fire department meets on the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. All citizens of South Jacksonville who would like more information regarding the department's operation are invited to attend at any time, Chief Slaid said.

U. of I. Educator Urges 'Adequate Tax Assessments'

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Illinois educator said Monday that one of the first steps in solving financial problems in education should be "vigorous support of whatever is necessary for an adequate system of assessment of property."

Dr. B. L. Dodds, dean of the college of education, made the statement in an address to the 40th annual conference of the Illinois Assn. of School Administrators in meeting in joint session with the school boards.

"It would seem to be to be of enormous importance in strengthening local government," he said, "to support every more to assist in insuring that all property is placed on the tax rolls at an equitable level of assessment."

"It is perfectly easy to understand how in a time of rising taxes there will be pressures for the assessment of property far below actual values," he stated.

However, he added that the depreciation of tax assessments "has in it at times elements of a game, from which nobody gains in the long run."

He expressed the opinion that the state must face the necessity of "very substantially increased appropriations for educational purposes."

"Present figures do indicate that the percentage share of state support in Illinois is not high as compared to many states," he stated.

GOP Sentiment Appears Against Tax Reduction

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentiment within the Eisenhower administration appeared Monday to be running strongly against any new tax reduction next year unless business falters.

High officials of four federal agencies, which presumably will influence the shaping of President Eisenhower's recommendations to Congress in January, indicated in interviews that a final decision on tax policy hinges on business developments of the next several weeks.

But each said the state of government finances—a $4,700,000,000 deficit is expected by June 30—does not justify further business or individual tax cuts, assuming that the economic recovery is still on the upbeat at the turn of the year.

This probably means that the administration not only will oppose a further income tax reduction, advocated by a number of the Democrats whose party will control the next Congress, but will take a stand against scheduled reductions in corporate income and excise tax rates.

The corporate tax rate is due to drop from 52 to 47 percent on April 1, under present law.

Several excise levies, including those on automobiles and gasoline, also are due for reduction next spring.

Never Before such performance with regular grade gasoline

New Shell Gasoline—regular grade—contains TCP, Shell-developed additive that stops the greatest cause of power waste

Now motorists who use regular grade fuels can enjoy performance never possible before.

TCP*, first introduced in Shell Premium Gasoline exclusively, has now been blended into Shell Gasoline (regular grade).

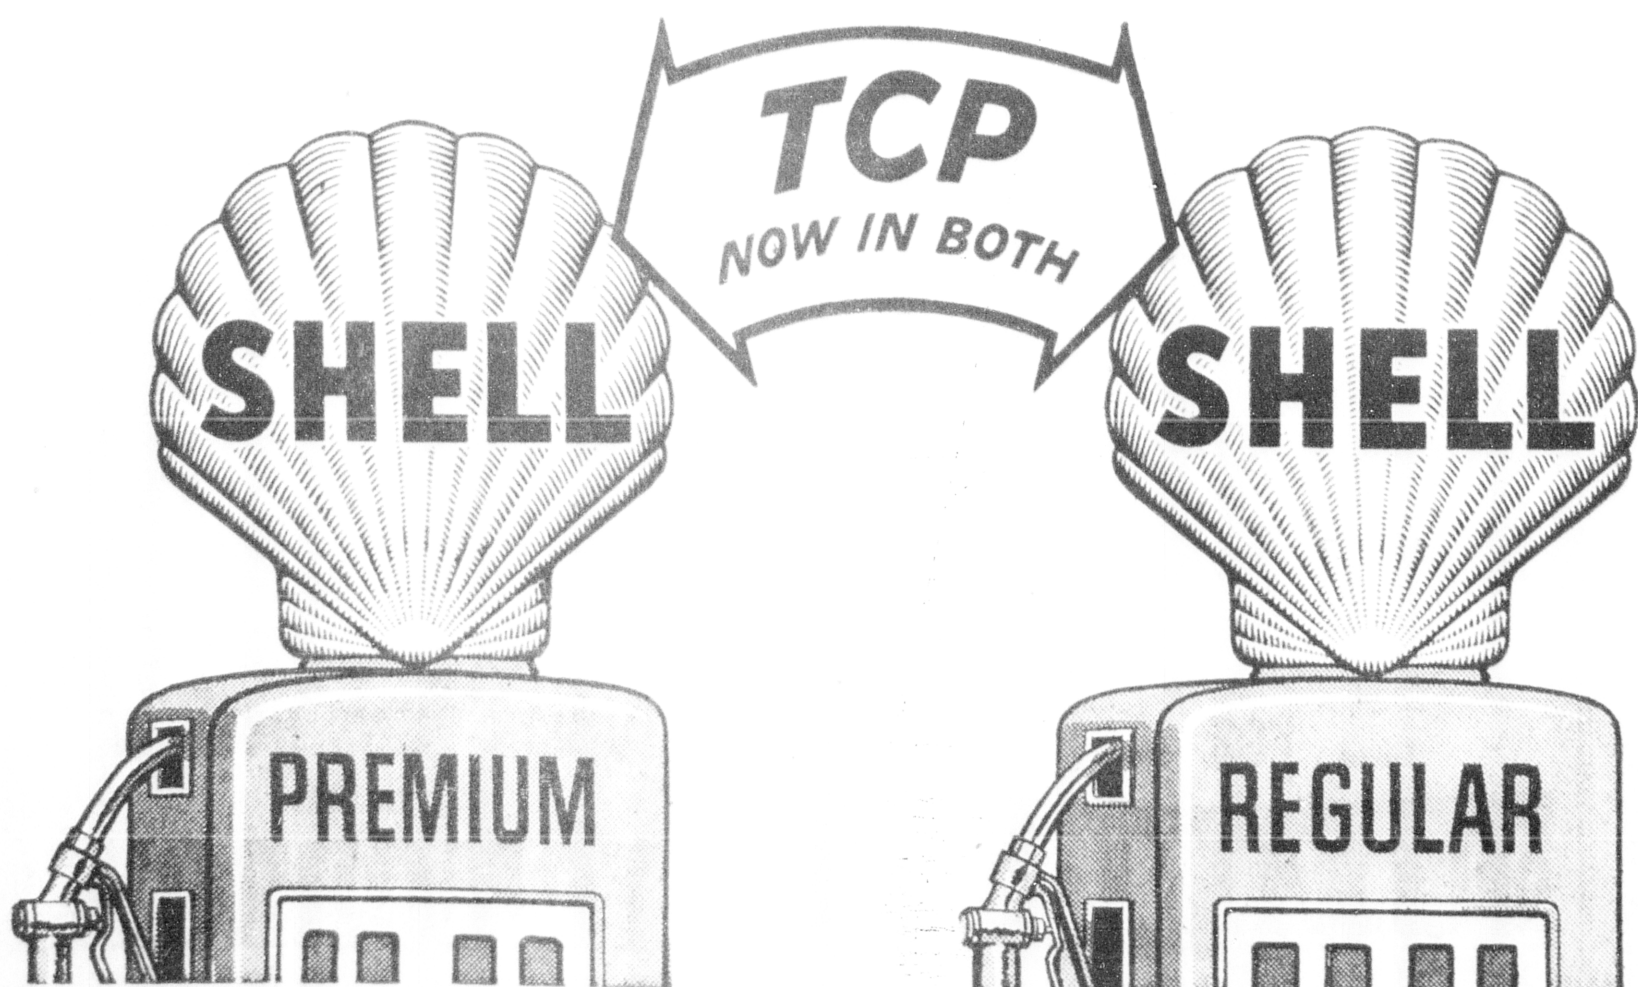

As a result, engines designed to operate on regular gasoline can benefit two ways. First, TCP additive "fireproofs" combustion chamber deposits, effectively controlling pre-ignition. Second, by changing the deposits on the spark plugs to non-conductors of electricity.

TCP additive stops misfiring. Each plug fires as it should, preventing fuel waste.

By correcting these engine troubles, Shell Gasoline with TCP gives an increase in acceleration, in smoothness of engine operation and in mileage.

Since engine deposits form constantly, continued use of Shell Gasoline, regular grade, with TCP additive is essential to retain its benefits. Now at all Shell Dealers.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

CERES SCHOOL VIEWS TRAVELOGUE

A travelogue was presented at the Ceres school Community meeting Friday evening, November 19, by two local residents, Mrs. Jane Wright Mungatroy, teacher at South Jacksonville, and Jim Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morrison, 1608 South West street.

Mrs. Mungatroy's collection of colored slides traced a motor trip made this past summer into the deep south and home again via Washington, D. C. Narration was supplied by Jim Morrison, one of the three Jacksonville boys who accompanied their teacher. The young narrators' ability to share with the audience the sense of adventure and enjoyment that characterized the trip quickly won and held the attention of all.

Mrs. Helena Rimbey is teacher of the Ceres school. Mrs. W. E. Blackburn served as program chairman for the evening.

"I have endeavored in this ghostly little book to raise the Ghost of an Idea, which shall not put my readers out of humor with themselves, with each other, with the season, or with me. Your faithful friend and servant, Charles Dickens, December, 1843."

With that preface, Charles Dickens, who loved people and loved Christmas, began the story of Ebenezer Scrooge, who hated people and—strange as it sounds—hated Christmas . . .

And of Scrooge's wage slave, Bob Cratchit, who loved his little son, Tiny Tim.

Prof. Hugh Beggs Plays Brilliantly In Annual Recital

By JOSEPH C. CLELAND

Music lovers of Jacksonville were delighted with a most successful piano program given by Professor Hugh Beggs at the Annie Merner Chapel of MacMurray College Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Beggs did some of the best playing that he has done in the good number of years he has been in this community. Anyone hearing the program given Sunday would have given testimony to his good works as a performing pianist of exceptional talents.

Every year one is able to detect greater freedom and more daring in the playing that make the music really come alive for the listener. There were many passages of real beauty in the concert and lots of genuine excitement to help illuminate much of the profound and challenging music. Any artist performing with this excitement under control is bound to convey this mood to the audience—something which Mr. Beggs did in his concert.

The first movement of the Sonata in F sharp major by Beethoven was played with a fine serenity and beauty of tone. Lots of lyrics was in evidence and it got Mr. Beggs off to a very good start.

The main item on the afternoon's program was the monumental Sonata in F minor by Johannes Brahms. This is really a great piece of music and most of it sounded just that way Sunday afternoon. The "Allegro Energico" of Scherzo movement was played with a delightful abandon. At all times the complex harmonies and rhythms were completely lucid. The final movement "Allegro moderato ma Rhuato" shared the same good fortune as the Scherzo with the massive tonal effects giving the listeners a real musical thrill. It is almost impossible to realize that this stunning work of art was written by Brahms when he was but 21 years of age. Mr. Beggs gave the composer the finest kind of cooperation in his interpretation of the work.

The Scherzo in B minor by Chopin carried on the exciting spirit of the Brahms number very successfully. Excellent technical and emotional control was always in evidence. Two charming Mazurkas followed the Scherzo, both also by Chopin. The final programmed number was the Chopin Tarentelle, Op. 43 which is not often heard. The pianist performed this number with all the whirling feverishness called for by the composer. It made a stunning piece of music with which to conclude the program.

For encores, Mr. Beggs delighted his audience with a short Prelude by Chopin. Blues by the contemporary composer Copland, and ended the fine musical afternoon with two Etudes by Chopin.

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — Darrell Krause, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krause of the Bethany vicinity, was taken by Gubser ambulance Friday afternoon to St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton for removal of casts and a checkup.

The boy suffered injuries Sept. 9 when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a motor vehicle.

Illinoisan Among 8 Held In Contempt For Reply Refusal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight persons who refused to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee were indicted by a federal grand jury Monday for contempt of Congress.

They included John T. Watkins of Rock Island, Ill., an organizer for the CIO-United Automobile Workers.

As a witness before the House committee, Watkins swore he never was a card-carrying Communist but admitted associations with party members from 1942 to 1947. Watkins refused to answer questions about persons he said had long since removed themselves from the Communist movement.

The others indicted with their identification as listed by the Justice Department were:

Barrow Dunham, Cynwyd, Pa., a suspended Temple University professor.

Lawrence Baker Argimbau, Cambridge, Mass., associate professor of electrical communications at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Marcus Singer, Ithaca, N. Y., professor of zoology at Cornell University.

Mrs. Goldie Watson, Philadelphia, a teacher at Martha Washington public school, Philadelphia.

Lloyd Berenblatt, Pleasant Valley, N. Y., a former instructor at the University of Michigan (1947-50) and at Vassar College (1950-54).

Millie Markison, Silver Spring, Md.

Bernhard Deutch, Philadelphia. All were called before the House Un-American Activities Committee in connection with a series of hearings it held in 1953-54 on communism.

U. S. Atty. William Hitts said the cases of two others once cited by the committee for alleged contempt were not presented to the grand jury.

Hitts named them as Wilbur Lee Mahaney, Jr., former teacher at West Philadelphia High School and Francis X. T. Crowley of New York City. Hitts said both Mahaney and Crowley after first balking at certain questions later returned and testified fully.

Hog Prices Drop On Heaviest Run Since Early '53

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill. — Reversing its trend of the previous week, the hog market broke sharply under a combination of unfavorable factors, including heavy receipts and a lower pork trade, according to the Producers Live Stock Marketing Association. Price change in cattle and lambs usually held within narrow limits.

The heaviest hog receipts in 22 months came at a time when wholesalers dressed meat markets were affected adversely by unseasonably warm weather and the approaching Thanksgiving holiday with its usual emphasis on poultry. Barrows and gilts suffered a setback of $1 to $1.50 cwt., while the loss on packing sows amounted to $1.25. Hogs Friday sold downward from $19.35 cwt. except for a few select lights that reached $19.50. Heavy hogs were discounted sharply from those of lighter weights.

Smaller marketings of cattle served as a stabilizing influence on this branch of the trade. Considerable unevenness and some soft spots developed in slaughter steers and heifers, but some cows picked up some strength and steady terms applied to bulls and calves. Replacement cattle continued to find a dependable outlet to feeders at fully steady terms.

High choice 944-lb. Jersey county, Ill. steers reached $27.25, while most choice beefs brought $24 to $26; commercial and good $18.50 to $23. Medium and good quality replacement steers realized $16 to $19.50 and veal calves sold downward from $26.

Lambs were generally steady until late when there was a 50c gain, which boosted the top to $20.50 for weeklings. Bulk of receipts for the week consisted of good to prime weeklings from $19 to $20; a sizeable showing of utility and good $17 to $18.50. Several lots of No. 1 and 2 skins cashed at $19 to $20, and some good to choice yearlings $17 to $18. Slaughter ewes finished steady to $1 higher at $3.50 to $5.

Madness In The Springs By Elinore Dennison

THE cigar Hannah had forgotten to smoke went out and she pulled it apart absently, letting the fragments blow out of the open window. Greg, she thought, Greg, Greg. The word went on and on in her mind. There had been many hotel rooms in the past weeks but she had never become accustomed to them, never reconciled to transitory living. She was a home-maker in her bones. It was strange how rarely she thought of the man who had jilted her, how difficult it was to reconstruct his face. As a rule, she remembered him only when they reached a new town and she sent picture postcards to her sisters. She felt guilty, then, because she was deceiving them. Because they believed her to be on an extensive trip with her bridegroom. Gladys had visited Boston once but the rest had never gone beyond Portland. Hannah pushed the tumbled hair back from her throbbing head. How could you explain Mr. Kirby and his amnesia to Gladys? Gladys would never believe she had known anyone as famous as Mr. Kirby. The closest anyone at home had ever come to a celebrity was Mrs. Harris who had gone to New York and been part of a radio audience. She still talked about it. How could you explain Rupert Landusky, who had no right to be in the country at all? Or even Uncle Wade, who collected people the way old Mr. Judson collected postage stamps? Or Hannah herself, for that matter. The Hannah her family knew was reliable; without any surprises. Everyone knew what to expect of Hannah. The girl her family knew would never have started out on so mad a journey, a—what did Uncle Wade call it?—an "experiment in green." She was not sure what

She abandoned thinking and put her reliance on instinct.

THE sound of rain drumming on the roof of the car awakened Greg. He straightened and moved his stiff neck cautiously. He postponed opening his eyes. When they were open he could no longer avoid the day and he was not ready to meet it. Something unpleasant was waiting for him. He knew the feeling. He had experienced it when his mother made him face the teacher and confess to breaking a window; when a man was promoted over his head at the office and he had to tell his stepfather; when—he remembered Hannah and he was wide awake.

Hannah was a nice, well-meaning girl but that wasn't enough. Just for a few minutes' madness, he was not going to be victimized for the rest of his life. A girl like Hannah was a matrimonial trap. A sudden memory of her in his arms stopped his breath. Although, he conceded, she had something he had not expected. Well, that was the end of it.

He took a long breath, squared his shoulders, started the motor and the windshield wiper. The dirt road was a lake and he drove cautiously back to town.

In the lobby of the hotel Hannah waited for him. Greg did not know what to expect. There was something different about her this morning. Then he observed that she had done her hair in a new way, with a deep wave drawn down until it nearly covered one eye. He realized that she was trying to conceal the bruise that had darkened her skin but the effect was to accentuate the size of her eyes, to make her almost pretty. Perhaps he would not have noticed this if a couple of men had not looked at her with a whistle in their eyes as she came up to him. "We need bread for breakfast," she said matter of factly. "You had better stop at a grocery store."

She pulled the hood of her raincoat over her head and made a dash for the car. (To Be Continued)

Ohio State Gains 3 Spots On 1954 All Big Ten Grid Team

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State, the first team to win seven Big Ten games in one season in modern history, gained three positions Monday on the 1954 all-conference football team selected by The Associated Press.

Six schools are represented in the Big Ten honor lineup with two berths each going to Michigan, Purdue and Wisconsin and one each to Minnesota and Iowa.

The unbeaten Buckeyes of Coach Woody Hayes, trimming Michigan 21-7 Saturday for their first undisputed title and perfect season since 1944, landed end Dean Dugger, tackle Dick Hillinski and Howard Cassidy, sensational game-breaking halfback, on the all-Big Ten team chosen by AP staff writers in the area.

Along with junior Cassidy in the No. 1 backfield are sophomore quarterback Len Dawson of Purdue and two seniors, fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin and halfback Bob McNamara of Minnesota.

The all-conference line is rounded out by sophomore end Ron Kramer of Michigan, who has been compared with Bennie Oosterbaan, his coach, as a Michigan immortal; tackle Art Walker, Michigan; guard Cal Jones, Iowa; guard Gary Messner, Wisconsin.

Cassidy, a deadly defensive player whose runbacks of pass interception broke the back of several key opponents, scampered 472 yards from scrimmage in Ohio State's seven Big Ten triumphs—the most conference victories in one season for any team since the University of Chicago took as many in 1913.

Navy, Baylor Favored To Face Mississippi In Sugar Bowl Battle

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Navy remained a strong possibility along with Baylor Monday to face once beaten Mississippi University in the Sugar Bowl football game New Year's Day.

A Sugar Bowl official who asked not to be identified, said Navy with a 6-2 record, had been approached and had expressed keen interest in a Sugar Bowl invitation.

However, at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., officials who could be reached would neither confirm nor deny whether they are interested in having the Midshipmen go to a bowl game.

Navy was invited to play in the Orange Bowl after the 1952 season but declined after the matter got as far as the secretary of the Navy. There is no precedent at the academy in such matters, but sentiment against it is due to extension of the season by a month and the fact that players lose their Christmas holiday vacation.

Mississippi, beaten 6-0 by Arkansas for its only season loss, needs only a victory over Mississippi State Saturday to clinch the Southeastern Conference championship and the host role in the Sugar Bowl. And the Rebels are an early two-touchdown favorite to dump State.

The Sugar Bowl official said Navy would definitely be issued an official invitation if the Midshipmen defeat or the powerful Army at Philadelphia Saturday.

Baylor, with a 7-2 mark, handed Southern Methodist University a 33-21 defeat last Saturday to jump to the front in the Sugar Bowl picture. The Bears could tie Arkansas for the Southwest Conference championship Saturday by defeating Rice and would be a prime Sugar Bowl selection.

The Sugar Bowl official said an announcement of selected teams probably would be made late Saturday.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS
Basketball is no longer just around the corner—it's here. Two of the local schools open tonight on their home courts and the other two swing into action the first part of next week. This could be a wonderful year for all of the local teams. The Routt Rockets, who open against Bluffs tonight, are playing one of their toughest schedules in years. Coach Jim Smarjesse has gone out and scheduled some of the better teams in this area and some outside the area.

—O—

However that's the only way to tell if you've got it or haven't. The same is true of Coach John Chapman and the High School. The Rockets open next Tuesday at Feithans, Chapman is continuing with his plans of bringing in more of the bigger and better teams each year. From the looks of his record, it must pay off.

—O—

Coach Jim Spink's I.S.D. Tigers also open tonight when they play host to Waverly. The Tigers will open with three freshmen in the starting lineup. However things will look better at the deal school when Ramsey and Zachariasen recover and join the "scat clads."

—O—

The Illinois College Blueboys officially open their season next Wednesday when Carthage invades the Hilltop. However, Monday night will be a big night for the school and many of the high schools in this area. We understand many of the coaches have notified coach Al Miller they will take part in the game against the Blueboys. The team, coached by Harry Fitzhugh, will be made up of many of the area coaches and several of the local mentors.

Bluffs Invades Irish At IC Gym; Tigers Play Host To Waverly

The Routt Rockets and I. S. D. Tigers open their 1954-55 basketball seasons and the local cage activity tonight when they take on Bluffs and Waverly respectively.

The Routt Rockets will tangle with the Blueboys at the Illinois College Gym with the first game scheduled to begin at 6:45. This PMBC Conference battle should provide plenty of thrills. Last season these two clubs met twice, Bluffs winning on their home court and the Rockets coming back to defeat the Blueboys in the District on the IC court.

Coach Jim Smarjesse plans to start four lettermen in tonight's opener. George Dee will get the nod at forward, Pat Dowling at center, Jim DeVore and Joe Shanahan at guards. The only non-letterwinner starter will be George Murphy who gets the nod at the other forward spot. Also scheduled to see action with the varsity are Cosgriff, Bayliss, Sargent, Walls and Jerry Lawless.

Bluff coach Hillman has four returning lettermen for tonight's game. Graves, Likes, Kesterson and Barnett won a varsity award last season.

Tigers Host Waverly
Joining the Rockets in getting the basketball season under way in Jacksonville will be the Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers who play host to Waverly, first game starting at 7:00.

Coach Jim Spink will have to start tonight's game without two of last season's regulars, Jack Ramsey and Bill Zachariasen won't start and may see only very limited action. Ramsey is still suffering from a football leg wound and Zachariasen's elbow has been slow responding to treatment.

This will cause coach Jim Spink to open with three inexperienced players. The two lettermen from last season in the starting lineup will be Al Duncan and Don Phelps at guards. The other starters will be Paul Mehning and Ted Schultz at forwards and Billy Ritchey at center. Mehning and Schultz are first year men.

Waverly and the Tigers met once last season with the Tigers coming out on the short end.

Jimmy Slade Absolved Of Any Wrongdoings

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Slade of New York Monday was absolved of any wrongdoing in connection with his eight-round defeat at the hands of Floyd Patterson in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Robert Christenberry, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said he had found "nothing dishonest" in the fight.

Christenberry said the commission was ready to accept completely Slade's story that he was fighting from sheer instinct after being felled by a barrage of punches to the head in the first round.

Slade was floored five times in the eight-round bout by the 19-year-old Brooklyn puncher.

Trojans Voted To Represent Coast In Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The University of Southern California was chosen Monday to represent the Pacific Coast Conference in the 1955 Rose Bowl game at nearby Pasadena next New Year's Day.

The Trojans, who finished second in the PCC to UCLA, will meet Ohio State of the Big Ten.

UCLA is ineligible for the coming Rose Bowl game since it played in the 1954 one.

Allen Frame Cops NCAA Cross Country

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Allen Frame, the Big Seven champion from Kansas University, finished ahead of a bunched group of other sectional favorites to win the 16th annual cross country run Monday with a time of 19:34.2.

After running with the pack most of the way, Frame put on a kick in the last half mile of the four-mile grid to finish about 35 yards ahead of George King of NYU, in second place.

Frank Eckhoff of Oklahoma A&M was third, George Terry of Boston University fourth and Arnold Sewell of Pittsburgh fifth.

Oklahoma A&M with a low of 61 points, won the team title from defending champion Kansas, which placed fourth.

Syracuse was second with 118 points and Miami of Ohio was a close third with 120. Kansas had 129 points and Penn State, in fifth, had 152.

The remainder of the team scoring:

Kikuo Moriya, from Wheaton College, one of the individual favorites was scratched along with his entire team.

Reds Release Two Pitchers

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds announced Monday the outright release of two pitchers in their farm system.

Willie Powell, who pitched last year for Toronto and Havana of the International League, was released to Havana John Oldham, signed by the Reds late in the 1954 season, was released to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

College All-Stars Will Be Coached By Pro Mentors

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1955 College All-Stars will be trained by professional coaches rather than college mentors for their annual football classic with the National Football League champion, the Chicago Tribune Tribune, Inc., sponsor of the All-Star Game, announced Monday.

Tribune Sports Editor Arch Ward said Curly Lambeau, veteran pro coach, will be head coach of the collegiate squad and Hank Anderson will be line coach. Each will choose one assistant.

The change in coaching policy marks the first time since inauguration of the All-Star Game in 1934 that professional coaches have been in charge.

"The decision was made by fans who were invited to send their recommendation for changes. If any, to WGN-TV's Sports Page program (a Chicago television show)," said Ward. "The response was overwhelmingly in favor of engaging professional coaches."

Ward said the shift to professional coaches "has been made in the hope of presenting a more exciting contest than the last four All-Star games" which the collegians lost.

Smith Wins TKO Over McBride

NEW YORK (AP)—Boardwalk Billy Smith, the No. 1 light heavyweight contender, dropped Archie McBride three times Monday night to win on a technical knockout in 2:58 of the ninth round at St. Nicholas Arena. Smith weighed 173½, McBride 184 pounds.

McBride's crowding style bothered the prison guard from Mays Landing, N. J., in the early rounds, but Smith caught up with him in the seventh.

Twice a barrage of punches floored McBride for a nine count in the seventh. He was rocky and badly shaken at the bell.

Three I League Opens Two Day Meeting

CHICAGO (AP)—The Three I League opened a two-day meeting Monday and the league's president Hal Totten said "it looks like the Burlington club is in pretty good shape."

Representatives from Burlington, Iowa, reported they kicked off a drive to sell 810 season tickets in an effort to raise $80,000 and the response has been beyond expectations.

Totten said he is "optimistic that Burlington will remain in the league."

Burlington representatives also said the team has certain financial obligations which "will be fulfilled by Dec. 15."

The league voted to continue postseason playoffs and Tuesday will hear from Eddie Collins Jr., who will represent the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, on the Terre Haute, Ind., situation.

Attendance at Terre Haute dropped to 37,000 this year and the Phillies have considered pulling out. In such a case, the franchise would revert to the Terre Haute Farm Assn.

However, Totten said the Phillies have expressed a desire to remain in the league.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame football regulars viewed movies of the Iowa game and heard scout reports on Southern California Monday.

Coach Terry Brennan promised plenty of heavy work beginning Tuesday in preparations for Saturday's home finale against the Trojans.

Three men injured against Iowa are expected to be ready to meet USC. Fullback Don Schaefer has a bruised thigh; guard Jack Lee is nursing a bruised shoulder and guard Pat Bisciglia is hobbled with an injured leg.

Bowling Congress Approves Plastic Coated Tenpins

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The American Bowling Congress announced Monday it had approved the first plastic-coated tenpins in bowling history.

An ABC spokesman said the formula, developed by Henry W. Moore of Omaha, Neb., would "easily double the life of a bowling pin."

The plastic coating, the ABC said will have no effect on the scoreability of a pin but will maintain its outer dimensions for a much longer time.

Umberto Maglioli Sets Records In Road Race

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP)—Umberto Maglioli, a pipe smoking Italian who laughs at danger, took both of Monday's legs in the Pan American road race and knocked three minutes off his old record in doing it.

Maglioli, in a flame-red Ferrari, started the fourth day with a 10-minute lead over second placer, Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., also in a Ferrari and finished with a 25-minute advantage.

With only Tuesday's 222-mile race remaining, and Maglioli the record holder on it, the Italian is the apparent victor in the big sports car class in this five-day race which already has claimed six lives.

Maglioli's record breaking took much of the attention from the other four classes in this five-in-one race.

Lincolns stayed in front in the big stock car division although Keith Andrews of Colorado Springs, Colo., pushed his Cadillac over the second lap of 188 miles in 1:38:34, two minutes faster than Walt Faulkner did it in a Lincoln. Faulkner, however, was first in the first lap of 251 miles from Durango to Parral in 2:36:26. Andrews was second in 2:36:13. They came Ray Crawford of Pasadena, Calif., in a Lincoln with 2:36:21 and Pat Soccano of Detroit, in a Buick with 2:36:27.

The second lap was from Parral to Chihuahua.

Majors Pick 13 Men In Annual Draft

NEW YORK (AP)—Catcher Mickey Grasso, who played for Cleveland in the 1954 World Series, was drafted Monday by the New York Giants as the major league clubs picked 13 men from the minor league pool for $120,000.

Grasso began his career in the Giants' farm system and played seven games for them in 1946. He became eligible for the draft when he was sold to the Indians' Indianapolis farm club 11 days after Cleveland had lost the series in four straight to the Giants.

Eight pitchers, three outfielders, a shortstop and a catcher were plucked from the minors, most from leagues of the higher classes.

The new Kansas City club, drafting as a major league team for the first time, ironically picked left-handed pitcher Art Ceccarelli from the Kansas City roster in the American Assn. Ceccarelli, a Yankee farmhand, actually pitched at Birmingham (15-12; last summer).

The Chicago Cubs grabbed outfielder Jim King from the St. Louis Cardinals' Rochester club and right-handed pitcher Vincente Amor from Oklahoma City. King played with the Cards' Omaha link in the Western League in '54, hitting .315. Amor, a Cuban, had an 18-11 record with Oklahoma City.

Milwaukee grabbed left-handed pitcher Roberto Vargas, a Puerto Rican, from Cleveland's Indianapolis farm. Vargas won 12 and lost 13 at Reading, Pa. in the Eastern League last season.

Only nine clubs selected players. Philadelphia, Brooklyn and St. Louis in the National and New York, Baltimore, Cleveland and Chicago in the American each passed three times.

Gagne Retains Crown; Jonathan Disqualified

Verne Gagne retained his U.S. Heavyweight crown last night in the local bowl as some 2000 wrestling fans cheered wildly as his opponent Don Leo Jonathan was disqualified after repeatedly jumping on the champ after he was thrown from the ring.

Gagne, who gave some 60 pounds to his opponent, showed the local fans why he is considered to be one of the best in the game. After Jonathan won the first fall with a Morrison cycle hold after some 14 minutes had passed, the former Minnesota football star came back to drop the 6 feet 5 inch Jonathan with a claw hold.

It was after this fall that Jonathan wanted a draw and begged Gagne to settle for one. However the champ wished to go on. However the match was returning to his corner after helping the Mormon untangle his left arm when he was knocked from the ring by the Salt Lake City product. Jonathan then grabbed Gagne's head and tried to use the champ to straighten out one of the iron corner posts of the ring. At this point the referee announced that Jonathan was disqualified and Gagne was declared winner.

This feature bout was truly one of Jacksonville's finest. Both wrestlers found the going tough on the inside of the ring and also saw what it was like on the outside. It seemed to be easier to get out of the ring than it was to get back in.

In the opening bout, Hans Hermann won the 30 minute time limit event when his opponent Johnny Pavich could no longer go on with the bout. The German badman knocked Pavich unconscious and it was several minutes before he was able to leave the ring.

The semi-feature event was every bit as exciting as the fans expected. The midget tag team of Ivan the Terrible and Sky Low won two out of three falls from Tiny Tim and Pee Wee James. The first fall going to the "villains" Ivan the Terrible and Sky Low. However Tiny Tim and Pee Wee James came back to win the second fall with an assist from Sky Low. "Sky" raced into the ring and landed a blow on his partner Ivan. The "drop kick" was intended for Tiny Tim but somehow the signals got crossed. However Ivan the Terrible and Sky Low Low came back to win the second fall and the match.

WHEAT, OATS DROP, CORN IN DEMAND

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (P)—Wheat's slow upward movement into new seasonal high ground, which has characterized trading for the past few weeks, ran into stiff resistance on the Board of Trade Monday. The bread cereal was tossed back for losses which ran to nearly three cents.

Oats also were thrown for a loss, although they did not retreat as sharply as wheat. Corn, rye and soybeans ended higher with corn displaying outstanding firmness throughout the day. The yellow grain was in demand because of small receipts of cash grain.

Wheat closed $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower, corn $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher, oats $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower, rye $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher, soybeans $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher and lad 25 to 32 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Profit taking was an important factor in the set back of wheat. A report a boat containing 340,000 bushels of wheat had been unloaded gave rise to rumors there may be substantial deliveries of cash wheat could not have been delivered if it had remained in the boat.

Brokers said the oats market looked "tired" with selling apparently coming from holders who have become disappointed at the market's inability to push higher.

Soybean trading was rather quiet, particularly for soybeans. There was no indication of any loosening up in the strong producer withholding movement.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—Corporate bonds moved slightly higher in heavy trading Monday while government issues eased.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange climbed to $5,250,000 par value from $4,235,000 Friday. Rails, utilities and industrials tended upward on balance.

Hanging over the market is a potential toll road program of huge proportions in the State of Illinois. The state is near a final decision on a program involving construction of 465 miles of toll roads costing about $83 million dollars. Financing of the project would be handled through sale of revenue bonds.

Pittsfield Woman 85, Fractures Hip

PITTSFIELD — Miss Lillia Vertrees, well known retired business woman, had the misfortune to fall the latter part of last week in her home fracturing her left hip.

Miss Vertrees fell when a chair tipped with her as she sat down on it. She was taken to Illinois hospital, where she remains as a patient.

Miss Vertrees and her brother, Herbert Vertrees, a former mayor of Pittsfield, live together on West Jefferson street. She is 85 years of age. For many years she was proprietor of the Vertrees Book Store, which was sold upon her retirement and is now owned by Alvin T. Brant, who conducts the business under the name of Brant's Book Store.

POWER IN SMALL PACKAGE—Solar energy is used to power this experimental radio transmitter which has a range of 100 feet. It was built by Edward Keonjian, of the General Electric electronics laboratory in Syracuse, N. Y. The unit uses transistors instead of electron tubes, and selenium solar-energy converters instead of batteries. When light rays strike the selenium, sufficient electrical energy is delivered to transistors to operate transmitter.

Fulbright Doubts Seriousness Of McCarthy Injury

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Fulbright (D Ark.) says he doubts Sen. McCarthy's elbow trouble is "quite as serious as we were led to believe" when the Senate last week suspended debate on censure charges against the Wisconsin Republican while he underwent hospital treatment.

"It seems to me," Fulbright said Sunday during a television interview, "that this delay is certainly consistent with an effort to prevent any vote at all."

Debate on the censure charges—which Fulbright helped initiate—was broken off last week until next Monday when Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol physician, reported McCarthy had developed "traumatic bursitis" after his elbow was injured in a Milwaukee hands-haking accident.

McCarthy has been undergoing treatment at nearby Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital. A bulletin from the hospital this morning said:

"Sen. McCarthy's condition has shown slight improvement over the week end. His present condition is satisfactory."

Fulbright suggested McCarthy's hospitalization had come at a most convenient time for McCarthy.

"This isn't the first time that he's reported to the hospital when he's in an embarrassing position," said Fulbright. He did not mention other instances.

Fulbright said he wasn't questioning Dr. Calver's competence or integrity, but that "there is an old custom in the Bethesda Naval Hospital that senators and congressmen make their own diagnosis."

A Navy spokesman after talking with Bethesda Naval authorities today said in answer to a question: "Congress members are treated just like any other patients as far as diagnosis is concerned."

Fulbright and Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-N.Y.) voted against the 10-day recess, but 76 other senators approved.

The Senate is authorized to sit for this session only until Christmas Eve. If the vote on censure does not come by that time, the charges automatically die.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), who headed a special committee that recommended McCarthy be censured, said Sunday he doubted the recess "will have any effect on the final result." Speaking on a recorded program broadcast from New York, he said the censure debate will "cool off" some of the people who have been emotionally upset."

BUGLARS GET MINK COATS

CHICAGO (P)—Two men locked the wife of a loop fur shop owner in a storage vault Monday and then looted the establishment.

The victim, Mrs. Sarah Berman, 47, had to spend an hour in the vault while police located her husband, Harry. He was out of the shop paying bills when the robbers made their call.

The firm's eight other employees all were at lunch. The robbers took four mink coats, valued at $22,000, by Berman, plus $2,500 in cash.

Mrs. Berman told detectives Joseph Bende and Edward Ohlen that both robbers were Negroes and displayed no weapons. She said they just pushed her into the vault and locked the door.

Scientists in a recent study, found that camels do not have any special facilities for storing water in their bodies.

UNDAMPENED SPIRITS—Youngsters were probably the only ones delighted with the 14-inch flood which covered Venice, Italy's, impressive St. Mark's Square. High autumn tides were responsible for the flood in the city famous for its many canals. The children could only wade through the flooded section for a brief period, because the water receded.

West Europe Defense Plan Has H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (P)—Plans for the defense of Western Europe now appear to include the use of the hydrogen bomb on the battlefield, to provide a crushing, all-destructive force where tactical nuclear fission bombs or projectiles might be inadequate.

Recent generalized and laconic references by American military officials to utilizing whatever weapons and tactics are required to counter aggression have been sharpened by a comment from the deputy supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Alamein.

The British strategist said: "I want to make it absolutely clear that we at SHAPE (the Paris headquarters of the supreme command) are basing all our operational planning on using atomic and thermonuclear weapons in our defense."

"With us it is no longer 'They may possibly be used.' It is very definitely 'They will be used, if we are attacked.'"

Montgomery made the significant statement in a lecture at London last month. A copy of the lecture became available in Washington today.

Montgomery arrives in Washington this week during a visit to the United States. On Wednesday, he is scheduled to meet with Pentagon officials and later to fly to Augusta, Ga., to spend Thanksgiving with President Eisenhower.

Pelican Fails Attempt To Swallow Man

LONDON (P)—Alec Pantou reported today he survived a surprise trip part way down a pelican. He emerged smiling fishy and with two abrasions on his forehead.

The incident, Pantou said, occurred at the London zoo.

He and his two small children were leaning over the wire fence watching a flock of the feathered divers with the outsize bill taking an after-dinner nap.

One of the old rhyons (A wonderful bird is the pelican, he holds more in his beak than his belly can.) Pantou warned the kids not to get too close.

At this point, Pantou told a reporter, one of the birds waddled over, reached out and snatched Pantou with his head inside the pouch where Pelicans normally store their spare fish.

"Finally the pelican let go and I retrieved by hand," said Pantou. "I drew blood on either side of my forehead but I wasn't really hurt."

John Yealland, the zoo's curator of birds, expressed surprise when told of Pantou's odd adventure.

"We have never," he declared, "had any previous complaints about our pelicans biting people."

MARIE McDONALD GETS DIVORCE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald Monday divorced Harry Karl, wealthy shoe manufacturer, on grounds of mental cruelty.

Miss McDonald, 30, and Karl, 40, have been separated since a reconciliation attempt failed last August. They were married Sept. 19, 1947.

In a property settlement agreed upon last September she will have custody of the couple's two adopted children, Denise, 5, and Harrison, 4.

Karl had agreed to pay Miss McDonald $1,500 a month for 10 years, even if she remarries and $500 a month for the support of the children.

Kewanee 'Uranium Tunnel' Probed By Health Board

KEWANEE, Ill. (P)—Kewanee's "Uranium Tunnel," where some afflicted people pay $10 for the privilege of sitting 16 hours, is under investigation by Dr. C. P. White, head of the Kewanee Board of Health.

The tunnel, second of its kind in Illinois, is a branch of one at Lone Rock, Wis., subject of a controversy now being heard in Wisconsin courts. The other Illinois tunnel is at East Dubuque.

The Kewanee tunnel which opened Nov. 18 actually is an 8 by 16-foot room with seating capacity of 20 persons.

Dr. White said the ceiling is lined with powdered low-grade uranium ore mixed with other minerals. The powdered ore also has been placed in cushions on the seats and floor and in individual pads.

A sign posted in the display window says: "We perform no act of healing." The management itself makes no statement in regard to healing properties.

However, Dr. White contends that the implication is made that the uranium possesses healing powers.

Dr. White indicated that the Illinois State Health Department and the attorney general's office will be contacted during the investigation.

Opportunity Tamped Down

GUTHRIE, Ky. (P)—A vandale released a brake on an oil tank car which chucked into a passenger train and pulled the leaky car to the front street crossing. The street was badly in need of repair. Trucks began hauling and dumping gravel on the flowing oily mess. Workers tamped it down. Result: a smooth, dustless street.

Council Hears Report Of Pipe Line Progress; Buys Radar For Police

More than three miles of pipe has been laid on Jacksonville's huge water transmission line from the Illinois river, and work on other contracts is moving along proportionately. By the end of this week if favorable weather continues, the four mile mark may be reached.

That was the report of engineers to the city council last night.

The council, besides keeping tab on progress of the pipe line, voted unanimously to buy radar equipment for the police department at a cost of $1,082, to be used in a campaign against excessive speed.

A report by Casler & Stepleton, engineers, showed that Price Brothers of Dayton, Ohio, manufacturers of prestressed concrete pipe, has delivered 30,351 lineal feet of pipe to the trench site, or 25.29% of the total length of the line.

"The progress of this section of the improvement is very satisfactory," the engineers reported.

Encounter Rough Ground

Taking up the activities of the Torson Construction Co., Kansas City, Mo., which is engaged in laying the pipe, the engineers said both crews have been working in rather rough terrain during the past two weeks and production was slowed down due to excessive cuts for grade and hard pan in the trench on several occasions. The total length laid to Nov. 20 was 16,656 lineal feet, or 3.15 miles, or approximately 14% of the total length.

"The crews are becoming more efficient and production should continue to increase," Casler & Stepleton added.

The most rapid progress in fulfilling a contract was reported at the site of the well, just north of Naples, where the Ranney Methods Co., Columbus, Ohio, is busy building the big well from which water will be pumped.

Kenneth Stapp said the concrete plug, six feet deep, was poured yesterday. The top section of the caisson will now be poured to grade, which will take two or three days. It is expected that the jacking of the laterals will start the latter part of this week.

In the opinion of the engineers this portion of the improvement is well ahead of schedule, and unless unforeseen delays in jacking of the lateral piping is encountered this portion of the improvement should be completed in December—several weeks ahead of schedule.

When the Ranney Methods Co. completes the well near the river, the Caldwell Engineering Co. of this city will begin construction of the pump house and installation of equipment.

Mrs. W. A. Jolley Of Roodhouse Dies Suddenly

ROODHOUSE—Mrs. Bessie Ann Jolley, wife of the late W. A. Jolley, Sr., Roodhouse publisher, died suddenly Sunday night at her home.

Mrs. Jolley suffered a slight illness last week while visiting her daughter in Alton but apparently recovered and returned to her home. Her death Sunday night was unexpected.

She was born at Medora Nov. 13, 1877, the daughter of John and Susan Medley Pritchett. On Dec. 11, 1895 she was united in marriage with Mr. Jolley at Jerseyville. They moved to Roodhouse 32 years ago.

Three children survive Mrs. Jolley: Mrs. L. M. Drake of Alton; Mrs. George Wollerman of Charleston, Illinois; and William A. Jolley, Jr. of Los Angeles, Calif. There are seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren. One sister, Mrs. Dora O'brien of Medora, also survives.

The deceased was quite active in the community; she was a member of the Roodhouse First Baptist church where she participated in Annuity class meetings and projects. She also was a member of the Order of Eastern Star and the Royal Neighbors of America and the Roodhouse Woman's club.

The body was taken to the Wolfe Memorial home where services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday with the Reverend H. L. Janvyn in charge. Burial will be made in the Fernwood cemetery. The family will meet friends at the funeral home anytime after 3 p.m. Tuesday.

It looks like this is an answer to some of our problems," Alderman Merriman said in recommending the purchase of radar.

Kelly said the purchase should include both radar equipment and a graphic recorder. On motion of Alderman Merriman, seconded by Alderman Chumley, the council voted to put Jacksonville on the list of radar-patrolled cities. The outfit the city ordered, to be delivered within a short time, can be operated by one man or a crew.

Recommend Zone Change

City Clerk Phillips read a report by the Jacksonville Plan Commission of a hearing Nov. 16 on a petition by the C. B. & Q. railroad requesting the use district classification be changed on certain property from Class G, light industry, to Class H, heavy industry.

The property included in the petition lies between the C. B. & Q. spur track on the north, the Wabash railroad on the south, Brown street on the east, and North Clay avenue on the west. The area east of Brown street is already zoned for heavy industry.

The Plan Commission reported that no objections were entered at the hearing, and recommended the change of classification. An ordinance was introduced and read later in the session, and laid over until the next meeting.

Another communication from the Plan Commission set forth details of a hearing Nov. 15 on a petition by the Salvation Army requesting the change of use district classification of certain lots from Class B business or Class G light industrial use. The location of the property included in the petition was described as all that real estate within the boundaries on the north by West Douglas avenue, on the south by Jordan alley, on the west by North Church street, and on the east by Alley A.

M. O. Mathews and Major Henri Servais, with Hugh Gibson, contractor, were present at the hearing before the Plan Commission to explain the location of the building. Several objectors were in attendance, the report noted.

Reject Another Petition

It was the consensus of the Plan Commission that the needs of the petitioner did not justify the extensive rezoning required before they could proceed with their original plans. The Commission also asserted that the architect had failed to consult the city ordinances before drawing plans. The petition was denied by the Commission.

The Board of Local Improvements filed an estimate of cost for construction of a four inch cast iron water main and eight inch sanitary sewer on Goltra avenue, as $9,638.

Alderman Kelly informed councilmen that Lake Jacksonville is now 14 feet, 8 inches below the spillway, a rise of three inches due to the heavy rain during the week end. The cause of Lake Mead's water level is improved by eight inches, but the smaller body of water is 25 inches below spillway level.

Ban On Rifle Shooting

Danger of discharging rifles in the lake area and also in the city was called to attention by Alderman Allen who said a second story window of a home on West Superior avenue was shattered by a stray bullet yesterday. Several reports of rifle shooting in the vicinity of Lake Jacksonville have been reported. Allen said there is an ordinance against shooting rifles in the lake area at any time. Only shotguns can be used there during the waterfowl season.

Another warning was issued by Alderman Kelly—8 is against the law to remove evergreen trees or city property surrounding the lake. Kelly said the Christmas season is approaching and there have been a few instances of trees having been cut down. He pointed to an ordinance which provides penalties.

Mayor Howland announced that John Deem, chairman of the Tree of Lights, asked permission to again use utility poles on the east side of the square in connection with this Christmas charity. On motion by Aldermen Rowe and Allen the council acceded to the request.

Crash On Hill Takes Lives Of Young Men; Two In Senior Class

Three Scott county families prepared to bury their dead after a head-on collision between an automobile and truck which cost the lives of three Winchester young men—two of whom were high school seniors.

The accident, one of the worst in this area in many years, occurred at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the crest of a hill one and a half miles north of Winchester, on U. S. Highway 36.

Another young man, sole survivor of the crash, was seriously injured.

The dead are: Gary Rumpel, 17, driver of a 1954 Chevrolet automobile; Richard Wayne Pence, 23, assistant manager of the Woodson super-market at Winchester.

George Richard Benton, 17, Winchester route 1, driver of a Chevrolet truck.

In Passavant hospital, suffering from a fractured pelvis, is Randy Banner, 17, companion of Rumpel and Pence in the automobile.

Morgan and Scott county officials who investigated the tragedy said occupants of the automobile were returning from Springfield where they attended a midnight show Benton was returning to his home from Winchester.

The car and truck smashed with in a short distance of Benton's home, which is near the foot of what is known as Shipley's hill.

Victims Well Known

What caused the automobile and truck to come together as all four young men approached their homes has not been established by authorities. But the tragic conclusions hurried grief suddenly into three family circles. All of the victims were well known and highly respected in their home community.

A family from Hesston, Kansas, was first to come upon the scene of death. Ewan Oswald told Coroner Kenneth Cunningham of Winchester that he saw the wreckage apparently within a matter of minutes after the impact. In a statement to the Scott county coroner the Kansas man said that he did not witness the actual crash. After making a statement for inquest purposes the Kansas man and his family continued on their journey later Sunday morning.

Cunningham and State Patrolman Merle Balke of Winchester were among the first arrivals at the accident scene.

All this - and more miles per gallon too!

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflo Drive!

MAYBE—among the upcoming crop of new 1955 models—there's another car with an advance that can hold a candle to this one.

But we doubt it. We doubt it because nowhere—among the rumors of what's cooking in automotive laboratories—is there anything to compare with what's actually happened at Buick.

It all started with the fact that modern air liners get two big advantages because they can change the pitch of their propellers.

First, they get off the ground hundreds of feet sooner than they used to.

Second, they can stretch their gasoline by setting propeller blades at just the right "pitch" for cruising.

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflo Drive?"

And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflo Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

That provides one setting for more-miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

All you have to do is push the accelerator pedal the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power.

And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the SPECIAL.

But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflo Drive.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Pay-off on progress!

Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflo and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

Peoria, (Special)—H. A. Lyons is so inexpensive that a year's supply of hearing aid is no more than the cost of a new Midget Transistor hearing aid. With this amazing midget aid you will once again enjoy hearing children's voices, birds singing, the radio, even the ticking of the clock and the thousand and one daily happenings you have missed for so long.

400 People In Tallahassee, Fla. Have Illness Resembling Polio

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (P)—What's it like to live in a county where one in every 150 citizens has come down with a serious attack of an illness bearing most of earmarks of infantile paralysis?

Nearly 400 people have been stricken here in Tallahassee and in surrounding Leon County and the economic life of Tallahassee has been dealt a severe economic blow.

"Outsiders think people here are dropping like flies," says County Health Officer Joseph Bistowish.

They aren't of course—and people generally are not so worried about the physical effects of the disease. They even chuckle over stories going the rounds like the one about the man who pulled into a local filling station, told the attendant to fill it up, but refused to open the car window any wider than necessary to push through his money.

The ailment has been dubbed polio for want of a better name, but it has medical experts baffled. The 400 recorded cases have been serious enough to require medical attention. Health authorities think it's likely several thousand others in the Tallahassee area have contracted the disease but have been so lightly affected they either didn't know they had it or they passed off their symptoms as a minor indisposition.

Principal hotels report business has been off 25 to 35 per cent and only now is beginning to pick up as the three-month-old epidemic wanes.

Stores which lean heavily on the regular Saturday shopping trips of rural dwellers have been hit hard. Even salesmen have been refusing to come to Tallahassee to show merchants their samples.

Numerous football games with Tallahassee teams have been canceled with opponents refusing either to come here or to allow local squads to visit them. Many conventions and meetings usually held at the capital have been moved elsewhere, postponed or called off.

How does one account for the relative calmness of Tallahassee in the face of this terror-stricken reaction of outsiders?

Health Officer Bistowish credits the unemotional handling of the story by the local newspaper, the Tallahassee Democrat, and radio stations serving the area with keeping down panic.

And he says citizens feel the Health Department is giving full information on the epidemic and isn't trying to hold anything back—a policy which serves to establish confidence.

The disease which has laid so many low is a strange infection and if it's polio, it is mild in that it has caused no death and has put very few patients in iron lungs. However, those who are stricken resent being told they have a "mild" disease. They ache all over and have terrible muscular cramps. Recovery is slow for some, rapid for others. There are a good many relapses.

Tallahassee and Leon County seem to be getting out of the woods now. New cases of whatever-it-is have dwindled to one or two a day.

family attended the Shrine Circus in Springfield Thursday. The members of the fourth grade class of the Bluffs school will be guests of the Shrine members of the Bluffs community at the Shrine Circus in Springfield Saturday.

Suffers Severe Foot Injuries

PITTSFIELD—Don Little, formerly of Pittsfield, now a resident of Winchester, was injured while at work recently for the Phillips 66 Company with whom he is employed.

A gas tank he was handling fell on his right foot, causing a compound fracture and resulting in several broken bones.

He was given treatment at Illinois hospital and has returned to his home. Mrs. Little is the former Eva Ann Rowe of this city.

Miss Helen Shadel, librarian, reports that Mrs. Marguerite Zimmerman of Decatur and Mrs. Bernice Martin of Chicago, daughters of the late Frank Main, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, Jr., have started a book shelf in the local library as a memorial for Mr. Main, who was a trustee of the library for more than 30 years. Mrs. Lewis is a niece of Mr. Main.

Mrs. Alice Crowder, who has been a patient in Barnes hospital the past three weeks, was taken from there to St. John's hospital in Springfield on Saturday for further treatment. Mrs. Ben Niebus, R. The court house will be closed for the day and there will be no delivery of the mails except special deliveries. The public schools will be dismissed on Wednesday afternoon with a holiday for the students until Monday morning.

Many families will be entertaining their family groups at Thanksgiving dinner tables, and many others are planning to attend the church dinners which will be served by the women of the Perry and Baylis Methodist churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sidwell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hurd, attended the homecoming football game at the University of Missouri at Columbia on Saturday, where James Sidwell is attending college this year. The Sidwells' older son, Robert, who graduated from the Missouri University last year and is now serving as a Lieutenant in the Navy in Washington, D. C., was also in Columbia for the homecoming game at his alma mater. He spent the day at his home here Sunday and was taken to Scott Field by his parents where he took a plane back to his position in Washington.

LET'S ALL B

Thanksgiving is a day for family gatherings about the festive board . . . a day for turkey and fixins' and pumpkin pie. But, above all, Thanksgiving is a day to stop and think about a lot of things that we take for granted the rest of the year. Such things as the blessing of abundance, far beyond the rosiest dreams of our forefathers, who so courageously wrested a foothold in a New World. Such things as the blessing of freedom. . . for us not a distant hope, but an ever-present reality. On Thanksgiving Day, let us humbly bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to Almighty God for all that we have, all that we are, all that we can hope to be. Let us reaffirm our faith in our Free way of life and solemnly pledge ourselves to preserve it unblemished for the generations still to come.

IT'S THE LAW

RELEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A letter addressed to "North Carolina Capitol, C/O Printing Office, Raleigh, N.C." said:

"Please send me two copies of every law that North Carolinians are supposed to abide by. These I want included in them: (1) All laws of driving; (2) All laws of slander, etc.; (3) Plus every other law(s) you can supply me with."

Secretary of State Thad Eure got the problem.

"Two copies of every law?" he mused. "Why, they're stacked there upstairs, tier upon tier, right up to the ceiling and all around that big room."

"I know what I'll do," he concluded. "I'll invite him to come here and browse around our store-room. Let him see the situation himself."

During the business session, committees were appointed, and it was decided to hold the December meeting on the night of Dec. 16 with Mrs. Lewis Bartlett as chairman of the hostess committee.

CHICAGO (P)—General Electric Corp. exhibited a sun-powered radio transmitter the size of a pack of cigarettes at the annual meeting last weekend of the Radio Television News Directors Assn. A selenium converter turns sunlight into electric energy and transmits take the place of conventional electron tubes. But the radio's effective range is only 100 feet. You can holler much farther than that.
